About Us

RB Services — Health & Safety Consultancy

Robin Bradley started as a 'man-with-a-van' and grew gradually over the years, evolving over time into electrical and maintenance contracted work.

As Robin's experience grew, the company expanded into Health and Safety consulting and reporting. The Training Center recently became one of five running the highly accredited APS CDM course, which runs alongside the CITB courses, first aid and various other health & safety training courses.

RB Service Group work with you to the right conclusion. Our knowledge of training both in practical and classroom situations can assist you in gaining the perfect answers for your working climate.

Some of our approved courses allow claims for CITB grants on completion, others direct you to further qualifications, but they all enhance your skills and increase your qualities.

We can come to you running our accredited or bespoke courses for your company. We cover all areas of the UK. Training is geared to your specific professional needs.

Our fees are very competitive without losing quality.

Our trainers have been skilled in their chosen subject for many years and have been involved in all aspects of the subject.

We have two purpose built training centre's in Hainault, Essex and Leyton, East London, close to the Olympic Village for the sole use of our tutors, who also have access to regional training centre's throughout the UK for your convenience.

All books, literature, examinations and certificates are included within our price, with RB Services there are no hidden costs.

If you are interested in any of our courses, contact us for upcoming dates and availability.
